eBay NOC Tour

eBay's Network Operations Center (NOC) is the central support location for eBay's web properties. The NOC provides round-the-clock monitoring and restoration services from two geographically distributed locations. At any given time the team in the NOC has its finger on the pulse of eBay's business and does what it takes to provide continuous service to the eBay community.

Tours will be available for the first 20 registered attendees.

About eBay

With more than 88 million active users globally, eBay is the world's largest online marketplace, where practically anyone can buy and sell practically anything. Founded in 1995, eBay connects a diverse and passionate community of individual buyers and sellers, as well as small businesses. Their collective impact on e-commerce is staggering: In 2008, the total worth of goods sold on eBay was $60 billion -- $2,000 every second.

About The Business Continuity Institute

The Business Continuity Institute was established in 1994 to enable practitioners in the emerging discipline of Business Continuity Management (BCM) to obtain guidance and support from their fellow practitioners, as well as to offer professional training and certification programs to disseminate and validate the highest standards of competence and ethics. The BCI is a membership organization – owned by the members and run for their professional benefit – with more than 4,800 members worldwide in more than 89 countries. Individual membership of the BCI brings a wide range of benefits including: publications, workshops, forums and conferences but most importantly an internationally recognized certification.
